

SIDE GLANCE

"Yes, we heard your speech in the city council attacking the dictators—but all we want now is that sewer fixed on North Elm street!"

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

motormen?
I heard a

In trying to make a settlement and preserve his home Mr. Brod had offered to give up half the farm in exchange for a clear title to the other half; but of course this was not good enough when they could get it all just as easily.

s, we don't putation of

Surely, with Edmonton becoming more and more prominent in the march of national affairs, we don't want it to get the reputation of being a tough cow-town. We are up there to bring our children up decently, in these war-torn times. It's hard enough, with things as they are, without having them taught blasphemy and profanity by people old enough to know better.

Jasper avenue.

☆ ☆ ☆

Eviction

Editor, Bulletin: I noticed in the news where a farmer named Ed. Broder living 12 miles northwest of Edmonton had been evicted by the bailiff, his household goods dumped on the road and his wife and children left to the tender mercies of the municipality. Mr. Broder was sent to jail because he actively though not violently attempted to nullify the actions of the bailiff. He is well spoken of by has been tolerant to an-Finnish most anti-N

No house has yet been found for the family in spite of a statement from the secretary of the municipality that the family were being

As a matter of fact, it is the neighbors who are looking after the children, while Mr. Broder and his wife live in a shack on the roadside. I hear that Mr. Broder has

During the past 25 years he has cleared up and broken a heavy brush and timber quarter and his neighbors all say that he has made

Obviously the cult to have government of that kind, and little can be hoped for until there are changes in the Finnish government. Apparently we were on the point of breaking relations with Finland four weeks ago when the staff the chief of Russia, under the years, up to enough with But the present Russian completely the government but people. It may not be the British, Russian know it, but it is only that we, our- for each person re- in his own local- edition.

war. In another city of like size similar plant makes changes required for the Arctic.

☆☆☆

Along all the coasts shipyard are turning out cargo vessels and warships of all dimensions and even in Denver, high and dry and landlocked, a thousand miles from the sea, small boats are built.

plants are rare and may be credited with good merit or exemption—uniform are everywhere in the town where live, but in Kansas, Missouri, San Francisco, and the south and east, everywhere.

we have a marine diving size, but only At one point the more than half as Kather found avall- off invasion in 1940 only one of several. out, of sight, divers come and go.

France went down now has internment camps for enemy civilians and even some native civilians, and other camps for prisoners of war taken in action.

That, amid all this, some Americans can strike the war industries is no serious impairment of the general picture of war-minded diligence. To a far greater extent than the American people or Germany or Japan ever belittled possible, the

as you do your laundry, no longer use these powders: you (even if you could wash 'em out, you can't), you keep on for stray spots and on the like operation. You're really reading which came with which you glanced away on the highest you're learning to apart and clean it. You also realize tions so that you electrician or lit-

Garbage cans, wastepaper baskets, and other small items if they are underfoot may cause nasty falls. They should be within easy reach, but where they will not be tripped over.

When reaching for articles on the top shelf, a firm kitchen step-ladder stool should be used in preference to a less sturdy chair. To avoid slipping, keep kitchen floors clean of grease or wet spots.

Garbage cans, wastepaper baskets, and other small items if they are underfoot may cause nasty falls. They should be within easy reach, but where they will not be tripped over.

When reaching for articles on the top shelf, a firm kitchen step-ladder stool should be used in preference to a less sturdy chair. To avoid slipping, keep kitchen floors clean of grease or wet spots.

Many dangerous burns have resulted from carelessness in handling boiling water and hot fat. Particularly where there are children, care should be exercised to see to it that they don't play about the stove when meals are being cooked.

Make certain that hands are dry before answering the telephone or touching any other electrical equipment whether in the kitchen

ny want to save that the motor decent rest now
it in tip-top shape.

Accident Covered

particularly care-
freezing schedule.
The frost is a quarter
should defrost refrigerator or not it coin-or bathroom. Many accidents have been caused by people forgetting to do this. _____v_____

During one of his recent "So
You Want to Lead a Band" sessions, orchestra leader Sammy Kaye handed the baton to a high school lad with the usual remark that from the moment he began to wave the baton until he had finished, the

"You mean to say I'm actually the band leader now?" asked the lad.

"That's right," assured Kaye.

"Then, before I begin, I'd like to hire my brother for the sax section—he's been out of work for a few months!"

OBVIOUSLY BIRKS

Birks
JEWELLERS

MAY, 1943							JUNE, 1943							JULY, 1943
S	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	M	T	W	T	F	S
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28
15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	1	2	3	4
22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11

SECOND SECTION

EDMONTON, ALBERTA—FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1943

PAGE NINE

Edmonton Bulletin

Your Bulletin Want-Ads Reach 70,000 Readers Daily

Alberta Crops Suffering Delay From Rainfall

All Seeding Operations Are Well Advanced in All Parts of Province

Crop development in Alberta is suffering delay at the present time due to cool weather and lack of rainfall, according to the regular provincial government crop report, released Friday. Light showers have occurred in the last two weeks over most of the province, but in the south and east sections, conditions are "only fair to dry."

I Saw Today

Seeding operations, the report says, are well advanced, and should be completed within a week's time. Germination has been slowed down to unfavorable weather conditions, but no damage has resulted through frosts.

In one of two instances, re-seeding of wheat and oats has been necessary, due to a combination of heavy weed growth and poor germination.

Seeding has been almost completed in regard to field crops, and warmer weather and general rains are necessary to hasten germination and growth of crops. Crops sown early are now three to six inches above ground, and are reported to be in good condition.

Due to the dryness of the season, and spring threshing of the 1942 crop, there is likely to be a greater increase in the area sown to cereals and forage crops than was first anticipated.

PROFIT REPORT
Frost damage to field crops has been reported from several points but it has not been severe enough to cause serious damage. Heavy weed growth and poor germination caused re-seeding in some areas of small acreages sown to wheat. Cultivation damage is noted, but is not as serious as in previous years. It is expected an increased acreage will be sown to oats and barley this year, to meet the needs of the livestock industry, as the shortage of forage seed has restricted the acreage sown to hay and clover crops.

W. G. STRACHAN
Discusses the Kwantia Girls Club report at the board meeting Thursday night with a friend on Jasper.

AND
Alice Fleming exchanging greetings with a friend in the central section of the city: Bill Harris entering the C.P.R. building in the early hours of the business day; Robert Stiel discussing matters of moment with a friend on Jasper; Jack Toulson stepping briskly along the main boulevard; Margaret Smith, on an east-bound street car; Warren Wilson walking north on 103 street; Norman McLeod losing no time in entering the C.P.R. building; Jack Penner crossing Jasper at the intersection of 103 street; Donald Dewar stepping rapidly across the Macdonald hotel rounds.

Getting Around

with Jack DeLong

In these times, when so many leaders of church and education charge that humanity is in the pit of despair because of materialism, it is unusual, to say the least, for some one to argue the opposite.

I have just finished reading a thought-provoking article, written by Thomas Firth, appearing in the Rocky Mountain Herald, published in Denver.

The article reads as follows: "Not one of 30 Denver high school boys favored liberal arts and each preferred scientific or engineering training when interviewed recently by a representative of Yale University. Commenting on the adjustment of the university to the war program, the representative continued on page fourteen."

An opus is one-half inch long at birth.

As you may make the tools with which our men must fight—must enjoy their vision, to do your best, with the same enthusiasm. A Registered Optician is here to examine—prescribe for—and fit your eyes for your better health—and better skill.

IRVING KLINE
DAVID KLINE
3 Registered Opticians
1817 Jasper Ave. (next to Gilchrist Hotel)
Where Your Eyes and Good Glasses Meet
Phone 2562

USED CARS and TRUCKS WANTED
We Pay CASH
Healy Motors LIMITED
Jasper at 1240 Street
Phone 2237

WORK MOTEL
From 12-30 Single

AN ARMY'S DESTINY
Is In Your Hands!
You men who make the tools with which our men must fight—must enjoy their vision, to do your best, with the same enthusiasm. A Registered Optician is here to examine—prescribe for—and fit your eyes for your better health—and better skill.

IRVING KLINE
DAVID KLINE
3 Registered Opticians
1817 Jasper Ave. (next to Gilchrist Hotel)
Where Your Eyes and Good Glasses Meet
Phone 2562

THE BARN TONIGHT
Ladies Must Be Accompanied by Gentlemen Except

Adjustant Juvenile Delinquents Community Problem Says

Noted Health Authority

The belief that juvenile delinquency is a community problem was expressed by Dr. S. R. Laycock, director of the division on education and mental health of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, in speaking to members of the Kinsmen Club at the Macdonald hotel Thursday evening.

The war had increased juvenile delinquency, the speaker declared. This is due to two or three factors. Restlessness had been created in boys and girls by the emotion-arousing events of the war.

They had been affected also through living in homes with jittery and anxious adults, he said, and added that the best advice one can give parents is "your children can take it."

The most important factor in causing delinquency in wartime was the disorganization of family life caused by the departure of the father for overseas or to work in war industry, the mother going out in war work, the frequent moving from place to place, living in crowded quarters, living in cities where there were no schools, recreational facilities, and parents who were too busy to give their children proper guidance.

There had been a great increase in delinquency among teen-aged girls, he said, and the best figures from the U.S.A. showed an increase of 31 per cent in this kind of delinquency.

To combat this delinquency, Dr. Laycock suggested that the community should increase its supervised places of recreation, not only for boys but for girls, and that parents should be encouraged to find a suitable vocation, and finding a philosophy which gives meaning and purpose to life.

SHARE OF EFFORT
"If we are to prevent juvenile delinquency in wartime we must give our boys and girls a real share in our effort without injuring their opportunity to get an education," he stated.

"We do this to some extent through Junior Red Cross work, through salvage campaigns and through the selling of war savings stamps."

The important thing, continued Dr. Laycock, is that the young people are made to feel that they are real partners with adults in the national effort.

BETTER EDUCATION
Dr. Laycock stressed the necessity of better education for parents. Most parents of teen-aged children have little real understanding of the problems of their children.

These problems the speaker listed as gaining emancipation from adult control; adjustment to changing physical growth and development; the need to adjust to the opposite sex; attaining emotional and social maturity; finding and entering a suitable vocation, and finding a philosophy which gives meaning and purpose to life.

Mother Reveals Pathetic Story Of Vain Effort to Save Children
Rushed to the Edmonton General hospital early Thursday morning, Mrs. O'Connor, 35 years old, suffering from face burns, told the staff a pathetic story of vainly fighting a blaze which took the lives of her two children.

The two children, Joseph Patrick O'Connor, nine years old, and James Malachi O'Connor, eight years old, were asleep when the fire broke out in the early darkness of Thursday morning. The children, who were in the O'Connor home, were tied up in the early darkness of Thursday morning.

Seventh in Family Joins Air Force
The Steel family of Moose Jaw, has a full quota of seven sons in the Canadian Air Force.

When Donald Keith Steel enlisted in the R.C.A.F. he was the seventh in his family to go to an active service.

Four of the family are in the Canadian Army and the seventh, the Royal Canadian Air Force, stationed now on Canada's west coast.

The fighting in the family are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Steel of Moose Jaw.

Mayor Will Open Kinsmen Auction
Mayor John W. Fry will officially open the Kinsmen Club's annual bazaar and auction at the Kinsmen Club at 11:30 a.m. today.

Three men who escaped from Oliver Mental Institute last week-end have now been recaptured, according to officials of the institution. One of the men was found in Edmonton, and the other two in Regina.

Watch and Jewelry Repairs
Bert Knowles
1018 Jasper Ave. Phone 3142

Killed in Action Queen Elizabeth Converses With Drummer Boy on Parade

Missing

An Edmonton soldier, Mark M. Woodard, drummer with the Black Watch, the Royal Highlanders of Canada, has had the rare and unusual honor of speaking personally with Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth.

The conversation, brief but nevertheless exciting, took place early in May when the Queen was reviewing the regiment, somewhere in England. According to word received by Mr. and Mrs. Woodard, the Queen was very kind to the drummer boy, and spoke a few words of greeting to him.

The conversation, brief but nevertheless exciting, took place early in May when the Queen was reviewing the regiment, somewhere in England. According to word received by Mr. and Mrs. Woodard, the Queen was very kind to the drummer boy, and spoke a few words of greeting to him.

Drummer Woodard has been missing since the fall of 1940 when he landed in England with the Calgary Highland Regiment, and was reported missing after operations with a city tailoring firm.

Before joining the Calgary Highland Regiment, Woodard was employed in the Milliet drug store for three years. Enlisting in the R.C.A.F. in January, 1940, he was commissioned in November, 1941, and went overseas the following month. He was buried May 3, 1942, in the R.C.A.F. station in England.

Two Autos Stolen In City Streets
Two autos were reported stolen to city police on Thursday. One was a 1934 Ford, bearing Iowa license No. 77-1342, was taken from a parking lot at the corner of Hudson's Bay Co. store. It is a 1938 model, and was found to be missing about the 10th of May.

U.S. Red Cross Takes Offices For This Area
The American Red Cross has rented office space in the Canadian Permanent building on 100 street, just north of Jasper Avenue, to serve as headquarters for the Red Cross for the entire North-West Service Command. It will be under the direction of Mr. Ernest A. Brown, area supervisor.

Officials of the Red Cross here stated Friday they were not certain when the area headquarters would open as office furniture and other equipment has to be obtained. The office day being done over in the meantime. Two rooms have been rented.

The organization is still seeking suitable warehouse space. It is also greatly expanded activities in the northwest, a permanent staff of four or five will be required at the new headquarters. Mr. Ernst said recently.

Safeway Stores Buy Prize Calves
Safeway Stores Ltd. in Edmonton have purchased 15 prize calves according to an announcement made Thursday by H. W. J. Madson, district manager of the company. The sale is organized by the district, under the supervision of F. M. McNeil, area supervisor for the Edmonton district.

Among the top 15 calves purchased by the Safeway Stores were the seven top calves of the show. The company paid 20 cents a pound for the grand champion calf exhibited by Miss Norma Smith of Club North Edmonton Beef Club.

Johnstone Walker Limited
Store Hours: 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Phone 3181—Ask for Dept.

Special Purchase 3 Dozen Cocoanut Straw HATS
For Picnic and Vacation Wear. Cool, shady and perfect for hats with medium and large brims and low plain or creased crowns.

Style and color in straw hats in natural and two-tone—trimmed with bright colored bands. Special price 1.95

Women's and Girls' Slacks
Alpine Cloth and Gabardine. Smartly tailored slacks for sportswear and work-wear. Made from durable Alpine cloth and gabardine in navy, green, brown, red, solid colors and stripes and grey. Zipped and button fastenings. Sizes 12 to 20. Price 4.98

Women's and Girls' Alpine Cloth Slacks
Shirts and Slacks to Match For Sports and Vacations. Those who are now sports or vacation minded, shouldn't fail to see these new Black Slacks. They are styled of durable Alpine cloth in blue, rose and sand.

These slacks have tailored waists, short sleeves, and are made with zipper closing and tailored band at waist. Sizes 14 to 20. Priced at 6.95 (Household Section)

Smartly Tailored Skirts of Alpine Cloth
Circular, girdled and box pleated styles, trimly tailored of Alpine cloth in black, brown, navy, dark green, powder blue, gailant blue, rose, beige and mauve. Narrow and high waisted. Sizes 12 to 20. Priced at 3.29

New Pumps, Ties, Runabouts
Dozens or More Styles Grouped at $3.95. STYLE AND QUALITY at wartime economy pricing! A dozen or more styles including Pumps... Ties... and Runabouts of crushed kid and glazed kid—some combined with suede or patent—many of them lustrous for snag fit over instep.

Black, blue and different shades of brown, black and white—some with subtle variations and to complement every occasion and to complement every color. Your choice 5.95

Johnstone Walker Limited
Jasper Ave., Edmonton. Phone 2220

Minute Make-Ups

Wear huge flower bunches over each ear or fasten the flowers to the side of your little calot! That's newer than flowers right bad in front. Wear Dragon's Blood Ruby for your mouth, the first deep red of conquest or try a heavenly holo-caust for your lips in flame swept red! And carry your lipstick in a carved replica of a Chinese puzzle piece. And, Oh yes, match finger-tips to lips! —V.—

Platinum is a poor conductor of electricity and heat.

This
Cream Deodorant
Stops Perspiration

SAFELY Doesn't irritate skin or harm clothing.

QUICKLY Acts in 30 seconds. Just put it on, wipe off excess, and dress.

EFFECTIVELY Stops perspiration and odour by effective pore inactivation.

LASTINGLY Keeps underarms sweet and dry up to 3 days.

PLEASANTLY Pleasant as your favourite face cream - flower fragrant - white and stainless.

and

this pig also contains

21 more applications for 39¢ than other leading deodorants

NEW DOORING CREAM CONTAINS AN EFFECTIVE
ATRINEMENT NOT FOUND IN ANY OTHER DECODORAM

WRITERS
NDON
their Families
Accident

Policy

Accident Certificate

ANNUAL REGISTRATION FEE
$1.00 for ages 16 to 60 years,
$1.25 for ages 6 to 16
and 60 to 75.

arrangement with Underwriters at readers of The Edmonton Bulletin.

DIRECT TO BULLETIN OFFICE.

Bulletin, and will continue as such for member of the family where de-from the above date in the name

The Edmonton Bulletin immediately that my insurance protection starts is subject to cancellation.

AGE (next birthday) _____
PT. NO. _____
R. _____
RELATIONSHIP _____
Applicant Sign Here _____
Mary Smith NO1 Mrs John Smith.
are relative of the subscriber's family.
Give Fee of $1.50 each none will net cover (1) persons blind.
one while on duty.

New Members
Made Welcome
I.O.E. Chapter

Two new members of the chapter were welcomed, Mrs. V. Sheppard and Mrs. William Johnston.

chapter.

Mrs. A. K. UShea reported on the recent sale of carnival tickets sponsored by the Hon. Frank Oliver chapter. A report was made on the making of war savings stamps and the making of war savings stamps done by the members of the chapter recently.

Members of the chapter will assist in tagging Saturday for the 49th Battalion in aid of the Navy Army and Wings club.

Week-End Specials

resses
and two-piece
ones, dots and 14.95

25.00 to 49.95

CASUAL HATS 2.29
Peanut straws,
smart new styles

6.95 to 14.95

5	Handbags . . .	5.95
5	Blouses	2.95
5	Gloves	1.00

URS NINE TO SIX"
ON & DYNES
is Specially Shop
SPECIAL SPECIAL SPECIAL SPECIAL SPECIAL SPECIAL SPECIAL
Daily
SALE

SALE

y Dresses
 rayon crepes, cotton
 Misses' and women's and styles that were
 you. $1.95
 (1 Floor)

Ice Suits
 to the spotlight.
 and Tahiti respec-
 to choose from in locals. $3.87
 (1 Floor)

Dresses
 2 FOR $8.95
 dresses in 66- and taffily placed tucks after color
$8.95

Substandard Hose fashioned four-thread Nubbers hose in season's smartest shades. Run 607, beach
 $8.95

Men's Swim Suits
Regent knit, 3 in 1, all wool, invisible support, double seat, seamless, zipper
$2.39

Men's Sport Suits
 styled whippersnaps and tropicals in light for summer
 western style

$4.95
 —Main Floor

Twoed
wee Suits
 ted tweeds in herring-
 bone and smart
 checked patterns.
 and three button
 $22.50

SPORT COATS
draps, three but-ties. Mixed shades
in, blue and tan.
$10 to $15
813-45
—Main Floor

Black or brown calf leather. Solid bend leather welled soles. Blucher or Maimoral last. Pair $2.95

519.55
Main Floor

Women Won't Talk

By RENE RYERSON MART

THE STORY: Kathy Kralk, moody and suspicious, has come to Ryan-ster to spend a couple of weeks before her marriage to George Baker. Kathy Kralk, who is married to a man she obviously does not love, and who is going to marry a man she doesn't love, is the most recent feud between Kathy and Connie, who is married to Kathy's father. Then a dead man is found on the ground. The scene is in the rooming house.

CHAPTER IV

I LOOKED around for Margaret, but she wasn't there. So I went to phone for a doctor and the police myself.

Where was Margaret, I wondered again, and my heart began to ache. I had to tell her—poor, poor Margaret!

I sat there by the phone, rubbing my forehead with one clumsy hand and trying desperately to think. I didn't know what was best. Maybe if we told the police that we didn't know the dead man... but, I'd have to explain that to Margaret.

The operator in the village finally put me through to the county seat. There was a discussion between her and another telephone girl, and then a trap masculine voice announced: "Sheriff's office."

I said we had a dead man in our rooming house. The man at the other end of the wire asked for details as calmly as if finding a dead man was an everyday occurrence. Maybe it was to him. I told him as much as was necessary, no more.

Then I went back to the living room. Client Mattison had taken a seat. He looked pretty well, except his arm was beginning to hurt. If only he and that devilish glider of his hadn't been crashing down at the wrong time...

I gritted my teeth and told Clara to give him the smelling salts. Connie was all right. "Where's Margaret?" I finished.

HOLD EVERYTHING

"Where's Margaret?" I finished. "She's in the bathroom."

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

"Hold everything!" I cried. "She's in the bathroom!"

ing in the world is quite worth getting excited about. I stared at her wondrously. But there was a reason that dark lovely face. Her rouged lips were smiling lightly—or was it mockingly at me—her dark eyes, often so stormy, were for the moment clear and limpid. Was it my imagination that she looked too innocent?

But there was no time for theorizing. A car stopped outside. There were heavy steps on the flagstones and someone lifted and fell the heavy knocker on the hall door. "Kathy," I said, abruptly. "Derek's been murdered. He's in the ravine. The police are here now. Tell them you don't know him."

My balls dug into her arm, piercing the skin and stinging her with a physical pain against the mental shock. She grew white, deathly white but she didn't faint.

"Gram—" Her voice shook. I shook my head at her warnings. There was no time to answer questions. Clara had opened the door below and three men came into the hall.

I went down to them. (To Be Continued)

I went over and knelt beside her and look her were old hands in mine. I would have given anything if I could have spared her the shock of this. She had worshipped him.

"Derek is dead," I said. "I'm afraid that is—somebody killed him. He's out there in the ravine. Oh, Margaret, Margaret!"

She stared at me, her wrinkled, broad, Irish-looking face a brown gloom in the dimness of the room. She didn't ask any questions. I suppose she was too stupid.

I told her all I knew. Then I gathered my courage. "The police are coming here. I phoned them. Of course, they'll ask a lot of questions. Margaret, it might be better if we told them we didn't know him—didn't know who he was. Could you do that, Margaret?"

She nodded her head, but her eyes were vague. I didn't think she understood.

I tried again. "It will be hard for you. I suppose we'll all have to look at him. But just say you don't know him. Do you understand, Margaret?"

Her voice came from a great distance. "Yes—Miss Marthe."

I closed Margaret's door softly. I would have to tell Kathy, too. She was the only other person in the house who could identify Derek.

As I started down the stairs the door of the room opened. Kathy came out into the hall, held on to the stair rail while I waited for her to come to me. Then I took hold of her arm.

"Kathy! When did you come back?"

"Oh, an hour or so ago. Why?"

"There is always a flippant undertone in her clear voice as if nothing in the world is quite worth getting excited about."

It required a technological war to put things in their true perspective. Go up to enlist in the army, the navy or the air force. Tell the interviewing officer that you were a salesman and watch him try and hide a grin.

Remark that you are an experienced clerk and prepare for a complete loss of interest on the part of the officer.

But tell him you are a radio expert and you've gotten yourself a job in the service of your country. If you are able to pass the doctor.

It's the same with anything mechanical or technical. The army craves for men with special technical training. So does the navy, and the air force wants nothing else but, unless you are going for straight air crew training.

And government schools from one end of North America to the other are enrolling boys and girls in special courses to learn various trades and skills. The skilled mechanic, the scientist, the new aristocrat.

Urges Collective Bargaining Upon Voluntary Basis

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—The Canadian pulp and paper industry, in a brief presented to the National War Labor Board yesterday by Elliott M. Little, general manager of Anglo-American Pulp and Paper Co. and former director of National Selective Service, urged the basing of sound employer-employee relations on mutual respect and goodwill, with collective bargaining preferably on a voluntary basis.

Mr. Little said there was widespread feeling among workers that the cost-of-living index did not truly represent movements in the cost of living.

In order to remove this feeling prevailing among workers, he suggested that the government circulate pamphlet form to workers a more simple formula than is available to date, explaining the mechanics of various methods used in arriving at cost-of-living index figures as reported in the Labor Gazette.

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(AP)—A former official of the Poston, Ariz., relocation center testified before a house of representatives subcommittee, it was disclosed yesterday, that Japanese in other food in the desert for invasion forces and paratroopers. He was Harold H. Townsend, former supply and transportation officer at the Poston camp.

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

ing in the world is quite worth getting excited about. I stared at her wondrously. But there was a reason that dark lovely face. Her rouged lips were smiling lightly—or was it mockingly at me—her dark eyes, often so stormy, were for the moment clear and limpid. Was it my imagination that she looked too innocent?

But there was no time for theorizing. A car stopped outside. There were heavy steps on the flagstones and someone lifted and fell the heavy knocker on the hall door. "Kathy," I said, abruptly. "Derek's been murdered. He's in the ravine. The police are here now. Tell them you don't know him."

My balls dug into her arm, piercing the skin and stinging her with a physical pain against the mental shock. She grew white, deathly white but she didn't faint.

"Gram—" Her voice shook. I shook my head at her warnings. There was no time to answer questions. Clara had opened the door below and three men came into the hall.

I went down to them. (To Be Continued)

I went over and knelt beside her and look her were old hands in mine. I would have given anything if I could have spared her the shock of this. She had worshipped him.

"Derek is dead," I said. "I'm afraid that is—somebody killed him. He's out there in the ravine. Oh, Margaret, Margaret!"

She stared at me, her wrinkled, broad, Irish-looking face a brown gloom in the dimness of the room. She didn't ask any questions. I suppose she was too stupid.

I told her all I knew. Then I gathered my courage. "The police are coming here. I phoned them. Of course, they'll ask a lot of questions. Margaret, it might be better if we told them we didn't know him—didn't know who he was. Could you do that, Margaret?"

She nodded her head, but her eyes were vague. I didn't think she understood.

I tried again. "It will be hard for you. I suppose we'll all have to look at him. But just say you don't know him. Do you understand, Margaret?"

Her voice came from a great distance. "Yes—Miss Marthe."

I closed Margaret's door softly. I would have to tell Kathy, too. She was the only other person in the house who could identify Derek.

As I started down the stairs the door of the room opened. Kathy came out into the hall, held on to the stair rail while I waited for her to come to me. Then I took hold of her arm.

"Kathy! When did you come back?"

"Oh, an hour or so ago. Why?"

"There is always a flippant undertone in her clear voice as if nothing in the world is quite worth getting excited about."

It required a technological war to put things in their true perspective. Go up to enlist in the army, the navy or the air force. Tell the interviewing officer that you were a salesman and watch him try and hide a grin.

Remark that you are an experienced clerk and prepare for a complete loss of interest on the part of the officer.

But tell him you are a radio expert and you've gotten yourself a job in the service of your country. If you are able to pass the doctor.

It's the same with anything mechanical or technical. The army craves for men with special technical training. So does the navy, and the air force wants nothing else but, unless you are going for straight air crew training.

And government schools from one end of North America to the other are enrolling boys and girls in special courses to learn various trades and skills. The skilled mechanic, the scientist, the new aristocrat.

Urges Collective Bargaining Upon Voluntary Basis

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—The Canadian pulp and paper industry, in a brief presented to the National War Labor Board yesterday by Elliott M. Little, general manager of Anglo-American Pulp and Paper Co. and former director of National Selective Service, urged the basing of sound employer-employee relations on mutual respect and goodwill, with collective bargaining preferably on a voluntary basis.

Mr. Little said there was widespread feeling among workers that the cost-of-living index did not truly represent movements in the cost of living.

In order to remove this feeling prevailing among workers, he suggested that the government circulate pamphlet form to workers a more simple formula than is available to date, explaining the mechanics of various methods used in arriving at cost-of-living index figures as reported in the Labor Gazette.

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

ing in the world is quite worth getting excited about. I stared at her wondrously. But there was a reason that dark lovely face. Her rouged lips were smiling lightly—or was it mockingly at me—her dark eyes, often so stormy, were for the moment clear and limpid. Was it my imagination that she looked too innocent?

But there was no time for theorizing. A car stopped outside. There were heavy steps on the flagstones and someone lifted and fell the heavy knocker on the hall door. "Kathy," I said, abruptly. "Derek's been murdered. He's in the ravine. The police are here now. Tell them you don't know him."

My balls dug into her arm, piercing the skin and stinging her with a physical pain against the mental shock. She grew white, deathly white but she didn't faint.

"Gram—" Her voice shook. I shook my head at her warnings. There was no time to answer questions. Clara had opened the door below and three men came into the hall.

I went down to them. (To Be Continued)

I went over and knelt beside her and look her were old hands in mine. I would have given anything if I could have spared her the shock of this. She had worshipped him.

"Derek is dead," I said. "I'm afraid that is—somebody killed him. He's out there in the ravine. Oh, Margaret, Margaret!"

She stared at me, her wrinkled, broad, Irish-looking face a brown gloom in the dimness of the room. She didn't ask any questions. I suppose she was too stupid.

I told her all I knew. Then I gathered my courage. "The police are coming here. I phoned them. Of course, they'll ask a lot of questions. Margaret, it might be better if we told them we didn't know him—didn't know who he was. Could you do that, Margaret?"

She nodded her head, but her eyes were vague. I didn't think she understood.

I tried again. "It will be hard for you. I suppose we'll all have to look at him. But just say you don't know him. Do you understand, Margaret?"

Her voice came from a great distance. "Yes—Miss Marthe."

I closed Margaret's door softly. I would have to tell Kathy, too. She was the only other person in the house who could identify Derek.

As I started down the stairs the door of the room opened. Kathy came out into the hall, held on to the stair rail while I waited for her to come to me. Then I took hold of her arm.

"Kathy! When did you come back?"

"Oh, an hour or so ago. Why?"

"There is always a flippant undertone in her clear voice as if nothing in the world is quite worth getting excited about."

It required a technological war to put things in their true perspective. Go up to enlist in the army, the navy or the air force. Tell the interviewing officer that you were a salesman and watch him try and hide a grin.

Remark that you are an experienced clerk and prepare for a complete loss of interest on the part of the officer.

But tell him you are a radio expert and you've gotten yourself a job in the service of your country. If you are able to pass the doctor.

It's the same with anything mechanical or technical. The army craves for men with special technical training. So does the navy, and the air force wants nothing else but, unless you are going for straight air crew training.

And government schools from one end of North America to the other are enrolling boys and girls in special courses to learn various trades and skills. The skilled mechanic, the scientist, the new aristocrat.

Urges Collective Bargaining Upon Voluntary Basis

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—The Canadian pulp and paper industry, in a brief presented to the National War Labor Board yesterday by Elliott M. Little, general manager of Anglo-American Pulp and Paper Co. and former director of National Selective Service, urged the basing of sound employer-employee relations on mutual respect and goodwill, with collective bargaining preferably on a voluntary basis.

Mr. Little said there was widespread feeling among workers that the cost-of-living index did not truly represent movements in the cost of living.

In order to remove this feeling prevailing among workers, he suggested that the government circulate pamphlet form to workers a more simple formula than is available to date, explaining the mechanics of various methods used in arriving at cost-of-living index figures as reported in the Labor Gazette.

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

ing in the world is quite worth getting excited about. I stared at her wondrously. But there was a reason that dark lovely face. Her rouged lips were smiling lightly—or was it mockingly at me—her dark eyes, often so stormy, were for the moment clear and limpid. Was it my imagination that she looked too innocent?

But there was no time for theorizing. A car stopped outside. There were heavy steps on the flagstones and someone lifted and fell the heavy knocker on the hall door. "Kathy," I said, abruptly. "Derek's been murdered. He's in the ravine. The police are here now. Tell them you don't know him."

My balls dug into her arm, piercing the skin and stinging her with a physical pain against the mental shock. She grew white, deathly white but she didn't faint.

"Gram—" Her voice shook. I shook my head at her warnings. There was no time to answer questions. Clara had opened the door below and three men came into the hall.

I went down to them. (To Be Continued)

I went over and knelt beside her and look her were old hands in mine. I would have given anything if I could have spared her the shock of this. She had worshipped him.

"Derek is dead," I said. "I'm afraid that is—somebody killed him. He's out there in the ravine. Oh, Margaret, Margaret!"

She stared at me, her wrinkled, broad, Irish-looking face a brown gloom in the dimness of the room. She didn't ask any questions. I suppose she was too stupid.

I told her all I knew. Then I gathered my courage. "The police are coming here. I phoned them. Of course, they'll ask a lot of questions. Margaret, it might be better if we told them we didn't know him—didn't know who he was. Could you do that, Margaret?"

She nodded her head, but her eyes were vague. I didn't think she understood.

I tried again. "It will be hard for you. I suppose we'll all have to look at him. But just say you don't know him. Do you understand, Margaret?"

Her voice came from a great distance. "Yes—Miss Marthe."

I closed Margaret's door softly. I would have to tell Kathy, too. She was the only other person in the house who could identify Derek.

As I started down the stairs the door of the room opened. Kathy came out into the hall, held on to the stair rail while I waited for her to come to me. Then I took hold of her arm.

"Kathy! When did you come back?"

"Oh, an hour or so ago. Why?"

"There is always a flippant undertone in her clear voice as if nothing in the world is quite worth getting excited about."

It required a technological war to put things in their true perspective. Go up to enlist in the army, the navy or the air force. Tell the interviewing officer that you were a salesman and watch him try and hide a grin.

Remark that you are an experienced clerk and prepare for a complete loss of interest on the part of the officer.

But tell him you are a radio expert and you've gotten yourself a job in the service of your country. If you are able to pass the doctor.

It's the same with anything mechanical or technical. The army craves for men with special technical training. So does the navy, and the air force wants nothing else but, unless you are going for straight air crew training.

And government schools from one end of North America to the other are enrolling boys and girls in special courses to learn various trades and skills. The skilled mechanic, the scientist, the new aristocrat.

Urges Collective Bargaining Upon Voluntary Basis

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—The Canadian pulp and paper industry, in a brief presented to the National War Labor Board yesterday by Elliott M. Little, general manager of Anglo-American Pulp and Paper Co. and former director of National Selective Service, urged the basing of sound employer-employee relations on mutual respect and goodwill, with collective bargaining preferably on a voluntary basis.

Mr. Little said there was widespread feeling among workers that the cost-of-living index did not truly represent movements in the cost of living.

In order to remove this feeling prevailing among workers, he suggested that the government circulate pamphlet form to workers a more simple formula than is available to date, explaining the mechanics of various methods used in arriving at cost-of-living index figures as reported in the Labor Gazette.

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

Expected Army Cache Food For Interned Japs

ing in the world is quite worth getting excited about. I stared at her wondrously. But there was a reason that dark lovely face. Her rouged lips were smiling lightly—or was it mockingly at me—her dark eyes, often so stormy, were for the moment clear and limpid. Was it my imagination that she looked too innocent?

But there was no time for theorizing. A car stopped outside. There were heavy steps on the flagstones and someone lifted and fell the heavy knocker on the hall door. "Kathy," I said, abruptly. "Derek's been murdered. He's in the ravine. The police are here now. Tell them you don't know him."

My balls dug into her arm, piercing the skin and stinging her with a physical pain against the mental shock. She grew white, deathly white but she didn't faint.

"Gram—" Her voice shook. I shook my head at her warnings. There was no time to answer questions. Clara had opened the door below and three men came into the hall.

I went down to them. (To Be Continued)

I went over and knelt beside her and look her were old hands in mine. I would have given anything if I could have spared her the shock of this. She had worshipped him.

"Derek is dead," I said. "I'm afraid that is—somebody killed him. He's out there in the ravine. Oh, Margaret, Margaret!"

She stared at me, her wrinkled, broad, Irish-looking face a brown gloom in the dimness of the room. She didn't ask any questions. I suppose she was too stupid.

I told her all I knew. Then I gathered my courage. "The police are coming here. I phoned them. Of course, they'll ask a lot of questions. Margaret, it might be better if we told them we didn't know him—didn't know who he was. Could you do that, Margaret?"

She nodded her head, but her eyes were vague. I didn't think she understood.

I tried again. "It will be hard for you. I suppose we'll all have to look at him. But just say you don't know him. Do you understand, Margaret?"

Her voice came from a great distance. "Yes—Miss Marthe."

I closed Margaret's door softly. I would have to tell Kathy, too. She was the only other person in the house who could identify Derek.

As I started down the stairs the door of the room opened. Kathy came out into the hall, held on to the stair rail while I waited for her to come to me. Then I took hold of her arm.

"Kathy! When did you come back?"

"Oh, an hour or so ago. Why?"

Store Opens 9:30 a.m., Closes 5:30 p.m. Daily, Except Wednesday, 9:30 a.m. Until 12:30 p.m., To Call EATON'S, Dial 9-1-2

Summer Magic Has Arrived at EATON'S!

SAVE ON THEIR SUMMER PLAY CLOTHES!

Confirmation Dresses

Lovely frocks for an important occasion—and your young daughter will look her prettiest in one of them. She'll wear it for best a long time afterward, too! Dainty styles in white rayon crepe or taffeta—exquisitely trimmed with frills, with embroidery or lace. Short sleeves with extra length to attach for confirmation. Sizes 8 to 14 years. EACH. $2.98 to $5.95

GAY PLAYSUITS

For Little Girls

Bright charmers, these play suits—an d little girls will love them! Crisp, cool cottons featuring pretty floral patterns on plain backgrounds—colors of pink and blue. Sizes 3 to 6 years. EACH. 49c

GABARDINE SHORTS

Sturdy, well cut cotton gabardine shorts for little lads. Grand for holiday wear. Colors of blue, and tan. Sizes 4, 5 and 6 years. PAIR. $2.25

Striped Pullovers

Boys' knitted cotton pullovers with long sleeves and crew neck. Stripes of yellow, blue, white or white. Sizes 2 to 6 years. EACH. 59c

Boys' Wash Suits

Neat little suits made for Summer wear. Cool cotton in all-over blue—one-piece belted style—short sleeves and crew length legs, button trim. Sizes 2 to 6 years. EACH. $1.29

Camp Clothes

Broomstick Skirts

All the young girls are wearing them, because they're so pretty, and because they're so cool and comfortable! Full skirts with snug fitting waists—floral, patterned, cottons in colors of rose, blue and green. Sizes 8 to 14. EACH. $1.39

Bathing Suits

Swimming is beautiful—and such fun! And here are suits young girls will adore. Corded rayons in red, green, blue and yellow—fashioned in graceful flared skirt style and trimmed with rick-rack braid. Sizes 13 to 14. EACH. $3.95

"Jane Kinley" Blouses

Favorite "Jane Kinley" blouses in beautifully tailored, short-sleeved style with long sleeves. Buttons and front. Lovely rayon crepe in snowy white. Sizes 12 to 14. EACH. $2.98

Girls' Shorts

Trim fitting cotton drill shorts in pleated style with buttoned waist. Navy blue only. Sizes 8 to 14. EACH. 89c

Boys' Sport Suits

Sport suits of rayon tropical cloth—cool and comfortable for Summer wear! Inner-outer shirts with matching long—colors of navy, brown and royal—sleeves small, medium and large. 2-PIECE SUIT. $6.95

Boys' Breakers

Boys' rayon shakokin windbreakers in single and double breasted models. Cut on comfortable lines to allow lots of action—super front. Colors of brown, green, fawn, blue, with contrasting trim. Sizes 8 to 14 years. EACH. $3.95

Cool Sport Shirts

Boys' sport shirts in practical inner-outer style. Sport neck and short sleeves—fancy patterns in colors of blue and brown. Sizes 8 to 14 years. EACH. $1.39

White Pullovers

Knitted cotton pullover sweaters for boys. Long sleeved style with V or crew neck—white only. Sizes 12 to 14 years. EACH. 59c

—Boys' and Youths' Wear, Main Floor

For the June Bride or the June Graduate The Gift of a Fine Watch!

Gift of gifts on either important occasions—a gift to remind the recipient of you and your good wishes scores of times every day!

Women's Lovely Watch

Unusually attractive watch at an exceptionally low price! Smart yellow case enclosing 15-jewel Swiss movement. Clearly marked dial and cord or link bracelet. 15-jewel Swiss. EACH. $15.95

Women's Malton Watch

Beautifully designed yellow case, simple and smart, with stain-resistant back. Yellow letters on clear dial, matching link bracelet. 15-jewel Swiss. EACH. $14.95

Men's Roamer Watch

Reliable 17-jewel Swiss movement in yellow case. Dial has yellow numerals and seconds hand. Strong leather strap. EACH. $19.50

Orvin Service Watch

Dependable watch for the military man! Yellow case with 15-jewel Swiss movement; luminous dial, sweep seconds hand, leather strap. Resistant to damage by weather. EACH. $25.00

—If desired, Budget Plan Terms, in accordance with War-time Prices and Trade Regulations, may be arranged on watches priced at $15.00 and over.

—Watches, Main Floor

Choose Summery Kayser Gloves

In Easy-to-Wash Fabrics!

Cotton fabrics, rayon-and-cotton duode—cool, velvety smooth, rich looking! They come in novelty and simple classic slipper styles that your good taste prefers with Summer frocks—and in favorite shades of chamamois, beige, black and white. Well cut. Sizes 6 to 8. PAIR. $1.25

You'll Like These Men's Dress Gloves Because they're so very good looking—and so very moderately priced! Domes and styles in skin. Choice of black, tan, grey and natural. Sizes 7 1/2 to 10 1/2. PAIR. $1.95

—Men's Gloves, Main Floor

Kayser Hose Are Famous!

For Quality and Beauty! And these are no exceptions! A smart six-thread service hose texture in clear Bernberg rayon—right to the top! Full fashioned, and finished with long wearing cotton like lisle, heels and soles. Fashion-right Summer shades and sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2. PAIR. 79c

Lovely Crepe Hose

Full Fashioned—Substandards! Beautifully full-textured and flattering—these favorite four-thread crepe hose in Bernberg rayon! Full fashioned, of course, and in smart Summer shades. Finished with cotton like top, toes, heels and soles. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2. PAIR. 89c

—Hosiery, Main Floor

Optical Parlor

Have your eyes tested at EATON'S! Four optometrists are ready to give you prompt efficient service. Mr. O. F. Willoughby Mr. C. A. Bower Mr. L. M. Payne Mr. E. J. Thomas

—Optical Parlor, Second Floor

Here's a Smart Shoe Value!

Women's Ties, Pumps, Oxfords!

Low price on shoes you'll buy now to wear all Summer as on into Fall! Practical tan or black in graceful pumps for afternoon, town and oxfords for street. Smooth, hard wearing leather uppers, leather soles, assorted heel heights. Sizes 8 to 9, AA to C. PAIR. $3.50

—Footwear, Main Floor

Inlaid and Embossed Linoleum

Beautiful embossed patterns—marble effects and straight line designs—in fine quality inlaid linoleum. Feet and linen back with heavy inlays—long wearing and easy to keep clean. Sparkling colors. SQ. YD. $1.69 to $2.83

—Floor Coverings, Second Floor

EATON'S BARGAIN SECTION

A Good Place to Shop and Save—Every Day!

"Sun Valley"

Petal Crepe Frocks

Realization—these smartly styled Summer frocks of rich rayon petal crepe! Floral design, polka dots and novelty border prints in wide color array. Tailored and "soft" style with short sleeves. Sizes 14 to 20. EACH. $2.19

Rayon Panties

Neat tailored and lace trimmed panties of "non-run" knitted rayon. Buttoned waist styles in small, medium and large sizes. Tarses and white. EACH. 59c

Men's Socks

Practical socks in a cool cotton texture. Assorted patterns and colors. Sizes 10 1/2 to 11 1/2. PAIR. 19c

Work Pants

Sturdy cotton twill work pants in black—roomy cut and finished with wide waistband with belt loops, usual pockets. Waist sizes 30 to 38 collectively. Assorted leg lengths. PAIR. $1.59

Men's Shirts

Cool looking negligee shirts of finely woven cotton broadcloth in a smart choice of printed stripes and fancy designs. Fused, attached collars. Sizes 14 1/2 to 17. EACH. $1.19

NO MAIL ORDERS. NO DELIVERY Rayon Section, Lower Floor

Honor a Grand Man... Your DAD

GIFTS THAT SAY I Remember FATHER'S DAY

A Handsome Array of Men's Suits!

Outstanding for Fine Tailoring, Long Wearing Fabrics!

Quality workwear went into these suits—the kind men can wear from office to party, with perfect good taste—and how well they wear, too! Expertly tailored in form fitting and conservative styles—in striking group stripes in blue, teal and brown shades. Single breasted coats with peak lapels—vest and one pair of trousers. Sizes 26 to 44. 3-PIECE SUIT. $22.50

—If desired, Budget Plan Terms, in accordance with War-time Prices and Trade Regulations, may be arranged.

Packard Slippers for Men

A thoughtful gift for father on his day! Comfortable Packard slippers with calf uppers and soft leather soles. Colors of black, brown or white—size 8 to 11. PAIR. $2.25

ROMEO SLIPPERS

Favorite Romeo slippers for men—so comfortable slip into after a hard day's work. That's why father will cheer your choice if you give him a pair on Father's Day. Brown kid leather uppers, leather soles—side gussets for snug fit. Sizes 8 to 11. PAIR. $4.50

—Footwear, Main Floor

See Back of this Page for Other EATON Announcements

T. EATON & CO. LIMITED

Get Into Slacks

When You Work in Your Victory Garden!

They're so comfortable, so practical! Here's a low priced group, just right for strenuous outdoor work! Navy cotton drill in neat, roomy cut—finished with buttoned side fastening and wide waistband. Sizes 14 to 20. EACH. $1.39

—Sportswear, Second Floor

A Light Hat Is the Right Hat

For a Man to Wear, Come Summer

In fact, it's a necessity! We're proud of the wide selection here—hats for every taste, every budget! Fine, light weight straw (trade name) in plain and novelty weaves and bands. Some Panamas. Summer colors, matching or contrasting rayon bands. All have sweat bands. Sizes 6 1/2 to 7 1/2. EACH. $1.75 to $5.50

Men's Summer Ties

Cool looking, smart with Summer suits! Crease-resistant ties of Summer materials—bright and light patterns featuring stripes and novelty designs. Full cut, of course. EACH. $1.00

—Men's Wear, Main Floor

Men's Sun Helmets

Keep a cool head in the sun with one of these light weight helmets! Various composition and fibre materials covered with cotton, treated to resist rain—cool lining. Chin strap, adjustable to size. EACH. 29c to $1.19

Shirts for a Good Sport

Give Father a Sport Shirt for Father's Day, June 20!

He'll wear it for golf, for gardening, for lounging about on hot days! Wide choice of cool, airy materials, free-and-easy styles, popular colors, here at EATON'S! Cotton, spun rayon and Celanese rayon in blue, white, fawn, tan, green—long or short sleeves, convertible collar, sizes small, medium and large. EACH. $2.25 to $5.95

—Men's Wear, Main Floor